

Friends of Grappenhall Heys Walled Garden

The walled garden can be found close to the historic village of Grappenhall in South Warrington. A wealthy banker, Thomas Parr, established his home and estate at Grappenhall Heys around 1830. After a turbulent period of demise, the walled garden was saved and transformed back to its original glory. Today, the attractive pleasure garden, kitchen garden and eight Victorian glasshouses provide a tranquil setting and all year round events for all ages.

With four acres to explore, the walled garden is an idyllic place to spend quality time with family.

- Enjoy a family walk or nature trail and meet the resident birdlife, bees and bugs.
- Explore the produce growing in the glasshouses and Victorian kitchen garden.
- Relax and enjoy refreshments at the Fountain Room Café.
- Bring along a picnic to relax.
- Join in a family event.
